Pulse Wednesday 26th November 1969.

Now that the surface of the moon is all cluttered up with footprints, we dreamers are forced to focus our contemplative vision upon more mundane sources of inspiration. Lost in meditation, before these hallowed halls the other day (day dreaming on my way to school!), I started to wonder about this 'agent-of-change' business.

The purpose of S.of N. is to bring about change in nursing through producing suitable types. Should not the community itself, participate in the change, not as separate individuals but as an important segment of society. It seems to me that there are more 'sharp-cookies' to the square inch around this place than you would find in a long day's march. Just imagine the change that would occur if a group of them got together and set out to produce learning programmes tailored to fit the needs of the rapidly expanding health services training schemes. Universities, Community colleges, Diploma schools, and hospitals are rapidly developing curricula for the education of Orderlies R.N.A.'s et.al., all of whom need grounding in certain areas of knowledge, e.g. Sociology, Psych, Physiology etc. Many of these people do not need, or could not absorb, a full programme; they do need some instruction though, and there is a shortage of qualified people working on these problems.

A market exists, and I feel sure that the publishers would be interested---and there would almost certainly be a little economic 'fall-out' for the school.

Bill's suggestion concerning SHOUT--- that P.B.'s could be of support to the basics. I feel that post-basics at the school of nursing are not used to full advantage. They have a wealth of knowledge and experience to draw on which we, as basics, do not. I would like to see the basics benefit more from P.B.'s ability and background (other than in Ed.Psych seminars, which are interesting, and helpful in broadening our outlook).

I think there are many opportunities during the year when we could benefit from P.B.'s contributions (seminars, discussions, etc.). Would we not function better as graduates, having gained an appreciation of P.B.'s views within this educational framework.

With full recognition of our P.B. students, Basic IV.

Ed note: the above was submitted anonymously, and I am not sure how representative a view it is, but feel that you would like to know of it.

Correction

In the last issue of Pulse we referred to the "Examination Committee".
I am informed that the correct designation of this committee is:

"The Committee on Conditions for Academic Standing".

This is a sub-committee of the Examination committee of council, the terms of reference of which are: "To review conditions for academic standing and make recommendations to council".

Pulse apologises for the error, the offending informant has been condemned to use invisible ink for one week.

A further correction has to be made to the list
under #1 sub-committee, there should be four names.
When I get the other two I will publish them.

! I have the names-----

Megan Maxwell Basic Iv.

Joan Hunter BasicIII,

Another correction.....!
